

What if - Ben Hogan knew where his HANDS were throughout the swing?

Perhaps HE DID !

Many teaching professionals have told me Ben Hogan's golf clubs had exaggerated rib reminder added to his golf grips - using a thin coat hanger wire. If this is true, then Hogan did have a way to maintain profound Hand Line awareness throughout his swing. Was this also one of his secrets?

"It's physically impossible while in the process of swinging, to consciously think of the many details of the swing.

You should think only of sensing the feel of what you are doing with club head through the action of your hands."

- Ernest Jones

SWING THE CLUBHEAD 1952

It turns out that other well known golfers also use a reminder GRIP. Learn about Bubba Watson's grip... GOLF WEEK 2012